

Scholarship Application Form

FAQs

Below are some of our frequently asked questions, along with information about how to apply for a Residential College scholarship at Mannix.

What are scholarships?

At Mannix, scholarships help cover the cost of some students' college fees and are designed to make Mannix College more accessible to those who otherwise may not be able to afford to attend. Our scholarships are funded by generous donations from former Mannix students, parents, and/or philanthropists. Our donors are passionate about giving deserving students the opportunity to enjoy and benefit from Mannix's collegiate experience. Scholarships are awarded for a full academic year; all students are expected to re-apply annually.

What kind of scholarships do you offer to residential students?

Mannix College scholarships are partial scholarships (which cover some of your fees). Scholarships are awarded based on extreme financial need, while partial scholarships help make college more affordable, and students often supplement their partial scholarships by taking on a part-time job, for example.

Can I hold more than one scholarship?

Yes. You might be awarded multiple Mannix scholarships. Mannix scholarship recipients can also hold Monash University scholarships.

Who can apply?

We will consider the application of anyone who can demonstrate financial need. To do this, you'll need to submit a scholarship application form and evidence of family income, which may include proof of parental income, evidence of savings, and other financial documents. We will then use this documentation to assess your application and decide what kind of scholarship we can provide to help make Mannix more affordable for you.

We consider students from all backgrounds for our scholarships. If you are from a rural or regional area, are of Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander descent, are a refugee, or have challenging personal or financial circumstances, for example, we would welcome a scholarship application from you.

Note: scholarships are awarded for a full academic year, and all students are expected to re-apply annually.

How do you assess scholarship applications?

We will assess your application based on a set of criteria. Things we take into consideration are your family circumstances (including household income, the number of dependents in your family, and household savings), your personal circumstances (based on the personal statement you supply as part of the application process), the references you supply as part of your residency application, and your course of study.

Do I need to apply for a particular scholarship?

No, applying for a particular scholarship or scholarship amount is unnecessary. All you need to do is submit a general scholarship application form and the required supporting documentation. We will assess your application in full and decide which if any, scholarship you are most suited to. You may be eligible for (and successful in attaining) multiple scholarships, but again, this will be decided as part of the overall scholarship application process, and we may combine scholarship amounts if we feel you would benefit from multiple partial scholarships.

How long does a scholarship last?

Scholarships generally apply to one academic year unless otherwise indicated. Our scholarships hinge on academic performance and ongoing contributions to the residential community, so students must re-apply for their scholarships each year. If you successfully attain a scholarship at Mannix College, you will receive details about how to re-apply when your scholarship expires.

When do your applications open and close?

Scholarship application open and close dates will be advertised on the College website. Applications received during this period will be assessed for students starting at Mannix College the following year.

Note: you need to apply to live at Mannix College before applying for a scholarship. This is because we process residential applications before scholarship applications.

Scholarship applications need to be submitted separately. So, if you plan on applying for a scholarship, submit your Residential College application first.

We understand that you may be nervous about applying to live at Mannix College without knowing whether you'll have a scholarship or not (and, therefore, you might not know if you'll be able to afford the fees), but rest assured, you will not be locked into any College fees should your scholarship application be unsuccessful, and we will be happy to talk through your payment and living options.

Are you eligible for ABSTUDY?

ABSTUDY is available to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander students enrolled in full-time tertiary study. ABSTUDY covers compulsory fees.

If you were an ABSTUDY recipient in high school, you are not automatically eligible for ABSTUDY at university. You must submit a new application, so we recommend getting this process underway as soon as possible (and at least 13 weeks before starting your first year at Mannix College).

The William Cooper Institute at Monash University can guide you through this process.
